

Expect the Best

There is a hilltop in Jerusalem
Where heaven and earth touch
After the destruction the bride began to weep
The ground wept too
The bride returned
As a bird
Perched at the wall

For three weeks
I sat low in sadness
I planned to bleed
To wash myself clean

This I have been taught:
After a river of tears
Expect the messiah

james stone goodman